Milestone Achieved in the Fight Against HIV & AIDS
A Message From the Executive Director and Board of Directors Chair

Dear Friends and Supporters,

The year 2010 marked a new beginning for all those at risk of or affected by HIV infection. This year the United States adopted a National HIV/AIDS Strategy (NHAS). The vision of the NHAS captures the spirit of the work we do here at Colorado AIDS Project (CAP). We are reinspired to fight on to help “the United States become a place where new HIV infections are rare and when they do occur, every person, regardless of age, gender, race/ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity or socio-economic circumstance, will have unfettered access to high quality, life-extending care, free from stigma and discrimination”.

CAP has a history of being proactive in response to the HIV/AIDS pandemic. As we’ve learned more about the disease, we’ve expanded, we’ve supported, and we’ve educated others. We’ve stood together in the struggle, and always, always offered hope.

As we strive to reach the vision of the NHAS, CAP continues to not only serve those clients who look to us for answers and resources, but to prevent the spread of infection in the community. It is a time of challenge as we work to bring quality of life and dignity to those who need it, free from stigma and discrimination, and reach out to at risk communities with testing and education about their HIV risk.

This challenge is intensified by an increasing client base, decreasing funds, and a misconception that HIV/AIDS is cured. In spite of this and thanks to you, we are succeeding. Our work is in partnership with you. Without our donors, our volunteers, our nonprofit partners, our funders and our employees, we could not meet these challenges or provide the services you will read about in the following pages.

- A record $5,637,717 allocated to supporting services to clients
- Nearly 1,100 free HIV tests provided
- The launch of Red Ball, a brand new CAP signature event to mark World AIDS Day
- Over 121,000 meals provided by the award-winning CAP Food Bank
- An increased attendance of 8,000 participants in the 22nd AIDS Walk Colorado
- 8% increase in number of clients served

Our motivation for being here can be summed up in the words of one of our clients “I got to a point where I felt that I was a contributing member of society again. I felt like I really had a purpose.” That is why we are here.

Sincerely,

Ruth Pederson
Executive Director

About Colorado AIDS Project

The mission of Colorado AIDS Project (CAP) is to prevent HIV infection and improve lives affected by HIV and AIDS.

Colorado AIDS Project (CAP) is a 27 year-old community based organization that helps those living with HIV/AIDS, and those at risk, to make healthy choices for a self sufficient, enhanced quality of life. CAP provides innovative, individualized services to those most in need, educates high risk populations, and advocates for social and health care equity.

CAP empowers those living with or at risk of HIV to live healthier, enhanced lives by providing two different sets of services.

First, CAP supports over 2,200 clients living with HIV each year, through such support services as case management, mental health and substance abuse counseling, housing assistance, transportation, food bank, employment, and financial assistance. Each support service includes the ultimate goals of working with our clients to make healthy choices, increase their stability and access healthcare for enhanced, healthier lives. Over the last quarter century, Colorado AIDS Project has served 75 percent of the men, women, and children who have lived with HIV/AIDS in Colorado.

Secondly, CAP helps people live healthier lives by educating those at risk of HIV, and working with them to choose safer behaviors so that they can decrease that risk over time. CAP achieves these goals through a spectrum of education and prevention services, addressing the broad population through media and community education, and providing more intensive, therapeutically based individual and group programs for those most likely to become HIV positive. CAP also provides regular testing clinics to ensure as many people as possible are aware of their HIV status.

AIDS Walk Colorado is the Rocky Mountain Region’s largest and most successful HIV and AIDS fundraiser. More than 8,000 people from throughout the state came together in Denver’s Cheesman Park for the 22nd annual AIDS Walk Colorado fueled by donations from more than 13,000 individuals, to raise money for vital services for HIV/AIDS clients of Colorado AIDS Project and more than 20 other outstanding AIDS service organizations.

The event served as a day to remember those we have lost to the disease with prominent speakers, panels of the AIDS Memorial Quilt and the first annual AIDS Walk Colorado Volleyball Tournament, held in conjunction with CGVA, in addition to live music, vendors, food and beverages.

On May 23rd, 2010, bartenders from participating bars across the city came together under one roof to battle head to head in a competition to be named the best of the best. Bartenders pulled out all the stops in a Mixology competition, creating original drink recipes in a number of different categories including best martini, best shot and best use of sponsor liquor. Guest judges from the community tasted and scored each concoction, while samples were poured for the crowd.

Following the Mixology competition, bartenders took to the stage in a dazzling display of technical mixing mastery in the Flair competition. Tossing, spinning, juggling, music and choreography added to the compelling display of extreme bartending. Music, dancing, giveaways and merriment rounded out the evening, raising funds for Colorado AIDS Project as a kickoff to the summer AIDS Walk Colorado fundraising season.
The inaugural Red Ball, an evening of frost and fire, added a feeling of edginess to Colorado AIDS Project’s canon of signature events. This ultra-chic event blended high-end local fashion designers, top-notch and innovative hair stylists and exquisite makeup artists to produce an alternative and outrageous runway experience never-before-seen in Denver.

Emceed by 9News entertainment reporter Kirk Montgomery, Red Ball combined fiery fashions, frosty hair designs and a sultry after party with hot DJ grooves and a cool atmosphere to draw local awareness to World AIDS Day while raising much-needed funds to support CAP’s services.

BackTracks is a 70’s disco party celebrating the heyday of butterfly collars, bell bottoms, leisure suits and afros and is one of CAP’s longest-running fundraisers. A throwback to the emerging gay club culture of decades past, BackTracks also serves as a reminder of the early years of the AIDS epidemic.

The event was initially started in 1982 at the original Tracks nightclub. It became one of the largest and well-known annual fundraisers for CAP through the event’s 27-year history.

EXDO Event center played host to the rekindling of this blast from the past in fall 2009. Food, drink specials, your favorite dance music of the past four decades and many more surprises added to a welcome return of this event.
Volunteers

Volunteers are truly an integral part of a successful non-profit organization. Colorado AIDS Project’s volunteers contribute in all aspects of the organization. Performing administrative tasks, working the reception desk, helping clients in the Food Bank, administering HIV tests, canvassing at festivals, community outreach and helping in all aspects of special events are just some of the areas in which CAP’s volunteers help.

In 2009, CAP utilized the help of 633 volunteers who contributed 9,178 hours of service. That amount of hours translates to $165,571.12 worth of time and effort that went directly to providing client services.

CAP is truly grateful to the many dedicated individuals and groups who give so generously of their time and talent.

Community Events

The community plays an important role in helping Colorado AIDS Project provide vital services to clients. Many programs including The Food Bank, Employment Center and prevention efforts rely on funds raised through community fundraising events.

CAP is grateful to the community groups who worked tirelessly to raise funds for CAP’s programs in the 2009 - 2010 fiscal year including:

Denver Cycle Sluts
Denver Dykes on Bikes

Ways You Can Support Colorado AIDS Project

Individual Donations
Whether memorializing a friend or loved one, standing up for a cause you believe in, acting as a role model for a child or peer, or supporting the organization that has supported you or a loved one, individual giving is the number one way that you can support Colorado AIDS Project. Gifts can be made on-line, or over the phone via credit card, or can be mailed directly to CAP. In addition to cash support, you can spread awareness for CAP. When you tell people in your life about your support of CAP, they are more likely to support CAP as well.

Support Special Events
When you purchase a ticket to an event such as Red Ball, purchase something in a silent auction or collect donations in support of AIDS Walk Colorado, your contributions have a direct impact on CAP’s bottom line. While many governmental and private grants are given to support specific programs, funds raised by special events are completely unrestricted and can be used to support any of CAP’s programs.

Investment Assets
Gifts of mutual funds, stocks, bonds and mortgage-free real estate can be given complete or used to create income generating plans. You can circumvent potential capital gains taxes and receive a charitable gift tax deduction. With a retained life estate agreement, you continue to enjoy real estate property for the remainder of your life.

Retirement Plans
You can appoint Colorado AIDS Project as a beneficiary of your retirement plan or use the plan to create a life income gift. Your estate will avoid the income tax that would have been due on your plan upon your death.

Income Producing Gift Plans
If you invest in a charitable remainder trust, pooled income fund or charitable gift annuity, you can make a significant gift to CAP and potentially increase your annual income, reduce your taxes, and benefit from asset diversification. You can also avoid capital gains tax if appreciated property is given.

Bequests
Gifts by bequest reassure you that your assets will be used after your lifetime for charitable purposes. You can declare a specific dollar amount, a percentage, residual or contingent gift of the remainder of your estate.

Matching Gifts

Corporate Matching Gifts are an easy and effective way to increase the impact of your gift to Colorado AIDS Project.

Many employers will match - even double - the charitable contribution portion of an employee’s donation to CAP.

The process is simple. Complete your employer’s matching gift form including your information and the amount of your personal contribution, and mail it to the Development Department at CAP. We’ll do the rest!

In addition to increasing the impact your gift can have on CAP, your company will receive increased visibility and recognition within the community as a philanthropic organization.

Check with your company’s Human Resources department to find out if your company offers a matching gift program. If it doesn’t, suggest that a matching gift program be started!
